INTERESTS

I have been part of a theatre class since my first year of high School. I acted in several plays, often as leading actor or main character. We took part in many theatre festivals in Italy such as Premio Dioniso (Turin), and the International Festival of Ancient Theatre in Palazzolo Acreide (Sicily). In Turin we won the first prize as best stage show for the Euripide "Alceste". In Milan I was mentioned as best co-protagonist in the ancient tragedy "Medea" during the festival "Thauma" organised by Università Cattolica.

In November 2017 I started a very prestigious dubbing course in Milan (Accademia del doppiaggio) managed by Lorenzo Scattorin, a famous Italian voice-over actor.

When I was 11 I took piano lessons with important Italian piano player Giovanni Venosta for three years. I have taught myself to play the guitar since I was fifteen. I have also taken singing lessons too since I was a child.

In my free time I listen to different music genres, go to concerts, travel, take photos, go to the cinema, theatre and art exhibitions.
